US Real Estate Changes Face of Chinese Economy

As we've seen, at the end of 2007 the US faced the outset of the sub-prime crisis. This crisis triggered a downturn in the US housing market, which proved to be a major shock to the US real estate industry, causing widespread problems and losses. The crisis spread to the global economy, affecting China as well.

Elections: Crisis-Induced Safety

The election of Barack Obama in the United States was a major turning point for the global economy, as it signaled a shift in policy that was expected to lead to increased government spending and fiscal stimulus.
